An Invitation to do business.....

with safety and health decision-making professionals at the 2012 North Carolina Safety Congress in Charlotte on November 15-16.

We are inviting a select group of industry suppliers to be exhibitors at the Safety Congress. This is an excellent opportunity to market to safety and environmental directors, human resources managers, loss control representatives, and owners of some of the most productive and profitable companies from North Carolina, Virginia, and South Carolina. Our attendees are decision makers who are highly motivated to find the best safety, health and environmental products and services for their company. In short, Safety Congress attendees are just the type of people you want to meet.

I invite you to look over the enclosed information for complete details. To be a part of this year's Congress, simply fill out and return the exhibitor registration form. With our new web linking, benefits as a Congress Exhibitor begin as soon as your registration fee is received!

Don't delay or miss this chance to market your products and services at this unique safety event. If you have any questions, please contact me by calling (704) 644-4216.

Sincerely,

Patti Romefelt
